

Dear FCC,

Please do not repeal rules that prohibit one company from controlling both a TV-station and newspaper in the same geographic area. The rules presently in place SERVE THE PUBLIC INTEREST by making sure that all the news is not gathered from the same sources. Our American democracy will be stronger with a more diverse spectrum of news agencies, not a consolidation of them.

I almost can't understand how an organization like the FCC can in good conscience of the public interest lift the ban on such conglomerations.

Respectfully Yours,
Carleton Shephard
Yale University